Raleigh Social News.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 24.—One of the most elaborate social events of the past week was a reception on Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock by Mrs. William Royall, followed in the evening by a musicale by the same charming hostess, both being in honor of Miss Almira, of Brooklyn, who is visiting here. For the reception the Royall home was decorated with chrysanthemums and festoons of cotton, the color scheme being yellow and white. Assisting Mrs. Royall in receiving and entertaining her guests, of whom there were about 200, were Miss Mary Armstrong Jones, Mrs. H. A. Royter, Miss Annie Root, Mrs. W. W. Roberts, Miss Mamie Cowner and Mrs. J. A. Briggs. For the musicale the special entertainers were Miss Helen Male Day, Mr. J. T. Brawley, Dr. H. A. Royter, Mrs. J. J. Thomas, Mr. J. J. Thomas, Jr., and Mr. John Royall. Miss Almira, of Brooklyn, was the guest of honor Friday night of last week at a delightful supper, following the marshal's ball by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Telfair. The guests were Mrs. J. T. Gooch, Weldon, Mrs. Alexander Cooper, Henderson; Mr. and Mrs. William Royall; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Roberts; Mr. Frank T. Haywood and Mr. W. A. Graham, Jr., the latter now of Richmond.

General and Mrs. Carle A. Woodruff entertained about twenty-five friends Thursday evening at a bridge party in honor of the Misses Fuller, who are here from Fort Leavenworth, Kan. They are daughters of Colonel Fuller of the United States Army and are the guests of Mrs. S. B. Shaw here. General Woodruff and Colonel Fuller were old friends in the army service, and the delightful bridge party was in the way of a welcome for the Misses Fuller, of Raleigh. The engagement of Miss Elizabeth Strater Wiley, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. Ceburn Dodd Harris, of Raleigh, was of much interest here. Miss Wiley was a visitor here three weeks ago.

At the dinner with the guests of honor were Miss Annie Root, Mrs. Alexander Cooper, Henderson; Mr. S. P. Barham, Henderson; P. P. Haywood. The dinner was at the cozy new home of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, on West Morgan Street.

Of special social interest was the pretty wedding out at the country home of Hon. B. R. Lacy, State Treasurer, Wednesday morning when Miss Antonette Morton Burwell became the bride of Mr. Norman Spicer, of Goldsboro. It was a white and green wedding, the decorations carrying out this effect. Mrs. B. Kilgore rendered the wedding march. Miss Irene Lacy was a charming maid of honor, and Mr. Richard Spicer served as best man, while Mr. R. T. Duvall, of New Orleans, gave the bride away, being her brother.

Miss Mary Latta was the hostess for the Kentness Book Club Thursday afternoon, the regular literary program and the delightful hospitality of Miss Latta affording the club women and special guests an afternoon of much enjoyment.

The Social Club met this week with Mrs. J. B. Pearce on Wednesday morning. Stoddard's "Lectures on California" are a special study this season. There was also a special guessing contest, in which the prize was won by Miss Harriett Day, with Mrs. Talbot Brewer as the winner of the visitor's prize. Special guests were Mrs. C. J. Hunter, Mrs. W. N. Jones, Mrs. J. A. Dunn, Mrs. Talbot Brewer, Mrs. J. R. Rogers, Mrs. F. M. Wilder, Mrs. Garland Tucker, Mrs. F. M. Shamberger and Mrs. W. C. Tyree.

Friends received during the week invitations to the marriage of Miss Lillian Murray Ferrall, daughter of Mr. John B. Ferrall, and Mr. Gregory F. Gannon, of this city, the ceremony to occur October 28th, at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The announcement of the past week of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Strater Wiley, of Louisville, Ky., and Mr. Ceburn Dodd Harris, of Raleigh, was of much interest here. Miss Wiley was a visitor here three weeks ago.

and made a most favorable impression. Mr. Harris is widely known, being assistant State chemist in charge of the pure food department of the State Department of Agriculture.

The Social Club, devoted to the delightful pastime of six-handed euchre, held the first meeting of the season Friday evening with Miss Mary Laurens Hinton as hostess.

On October 24.—In honor of Mrs. W. C. Eakin, of Jackson, Miss., Mrs. William Lybrook entertained a dozen friends at breakfast from 10:30 to 12 on Thursday. Clusters of autumn leaves and goldenrod were used most effectively to decorate the parlor and dining-room, and a delicious collation was served of grapefruit, chicken salad, beaten biscuit, broiled oysters, olives and coffee. Mrs. Lybrook's guests included Mesdames J. H. H. Woodruff, J. B. Tutwiler, W. D. Saunders, S. R. Pritchard, Rupert Stockard, of Columbus, Miss.; F. D. Wilson, Kent Black; Misses Rosalie Stockard and Mary Taylor, of Wytheville.

Misses Virginia and Leona Vawter invited a number of friends to meet their sister and guest, Mrs. Stonewall Tompkins, of Miller School, in Professor Vawter's lecture-room at the institute on Wednesday evening, entertaining them with a series of "flower tableaux," which were carried out in an artistic manner. Professor F. H. Abbott sang several solos, and assisting in the presentation of the pictures were Misses Margaret Patton, Mary Henderson, Aryle Tutwiler, Elizabeth Hoge, Mesdames G. H. Jamerson, C. E. Vawter, Jr., and Master Tom Baringer.

To help the cause of the Home for Confederate Women and the Stonewall Jackson Hospital at Lexington, there were many callers at the home of Mrs. Mary I. Black Thursday afternoon from 4 to 6, the occasion being a "silver tea," given by the Harvey Black Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

Light refreshments were served and a neat sum realized.

Cards received here to-day announce the marriage at Leesburg, Va., Tuesday afternoon, October 20th, of Miss Belle Elgin and Mr. Arthur P. Spencer. The latter is associate professor of agriculture at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and very popular in the college and town. After a short wedding trip, Professor and Mrs. Spencer will come to Blacksburg for the winter.

Mrs. H. P. Read arrived in Blacksburg from Washington Tuesday. Professor and Mrs. Read will occupy the Presbyterian manse, which has just been completed, during the present session of the V. P. I.
